much, and we think, with much tu omp, to be delivered on or before the 1st of July, 1846

we as annexed:—

To diminish the hazard to contractors of forwarding I mp from the Western States, which may not be of proper quality, or sunfciently well prepared, the Secretary of the Navy has appointed two agents, who will, when requested, inspect hemp that may be prepared and intended to fulfil contracts to be made under this advertisement. One of these agents will inspect the hemp that may be sent to Louisratis to be made under this advertisement. One of these agents will inspect the hemp that may be sent to Louisville, Kentucky, and the other that which may be sent to Sit Louis, in Missouri. These egents will be furnished with samples of the Riga Rein hemp, excepting for hemp fully prepared for spinning, and with the means of testing the strength of hemp, and will be ready to give all in "matton in their power, to enable contractors to have" eir hemp properly prepared, and to ascertain the strengt and character of it, before the expense of sending it to the navy yard is incurred. It must be distinctly understood, however, that the inspection and opinion of these agents is merely to diminish the risk to contractors, by furnishing useful information. The only inspection by which the hemp can be finally received and paid for, will be at the navy yard where it is to be delivered.

This double inspection is complained of, as it frequents to be the inspection of hemp, but the inspection of these agents is not final or in any way binding upon the government. The operation is this: if a man in Missouri has a lot of hemp which he wishes to sell to the United States, he must first submit it to the inspection of the agent in St. Louis, for he must obtain the agent's certificate, that it is American hemp, or else he cannot soll to the government at all. Then, after he has gone to the trouble and expense of this inspection, he must ship it, at his own risk and expense to the navy yard at Charlestown; there it must undergo another inspection, and notwithstanding it may have been highly approved of by the inspector in S entirely please the inspector or purchaser at n,it is refused, and the owner must take it into market and get what he can for it. Taking it into the tet under a rejection by the government inspectors he is not likely to get even a fair price for it. Old Stock Exchange.

TELEGRAPHIC REPORT.

PROCEEDINGS IN CONGRESS.

Senate. WASHINGTON, Wednesday, June, 17, 1846. PAY OF VOLUNTEERS. Mr. Baight gave notice of a bill to raise the pay of volunteers to ten dollars per month during the war Mr. Cass presented a memorial from artists, asking Congress to purchase Catlin's pictures.

THE SUPPLEMENTAL WAR BILL.

THE SUPPLEMENTAL WAR BILL.

Mr. Dix, from Committee of Conference on the supplemental war bill, reported that the majority had agreed thereon, and asked the concurrence of the Senate.

Mr. Mangum, one of the Committee, disagreed with the report, regarding some of its provisions as revolutionizing the whole military service. He moved that the report be printed and the bill be faid on the table. This motion was lost—syes 22, noes 22. A long discussion then took place, and the bill was shown in part to be unconstitutional and incongruous. A motion to postpone the bill until to-morrow was lost—ayes 26, noes 28. The report was then concurred with—ayes 22, noes 19.

ANNEXATION TO VIRGINIA.

Mr. Havwood reported the House bill to secede Alexadria to Virginia, and recommended its rejection. THE COMMITTEE ON FOREIGN RELATIONS.

The Senate proceeded to ballot for a Chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations. Mr. Archer withdrew his name. Messrs. Webster, Sevier and McDuffe were the principal candidates. Mr. Webster withdrew on the third, and Mr. Sevier on the fourth, ballot. On the seventh ballot Mr. McDuffle was elected by 31 votes—the rest scattering.

The Senate then went into Executive Session.

House of Representatives.

AMERICAN LAWS. A resolution for printing the 10th volume of the laws of the United States, was rejected.

The amendments to the Indian appropriation bill were taken up. A protracted debate ensued. An appropriation to pay the Wyandots, for certain improvements upon their land in Ohio, in abandoning the same, in confermity with the treaty of 1844. Amendments were con curred with.

Senate amendments to the Post office bill were then taken up in committee. The same were concurred in and reported to the House.

THE CONTESTED SEATS.

Reports from committees were called for. The committee on education reported a resolution, in favor of allowing pay and mileage to C. J. Ingersoll, while con. testing the seat of S. Naylor. The same to John Tullia fere, when contesting seat thirty-three years ago. Laid on the table, 113 to 39.

THE WESSTER IMPERCHMENT.

The printing of the testimony before the Webster impeachment committee, was ordered.

MISCELLAREOUS.

A communication from the Navy Department, and many relating to the Lake Superior mineral lands, from the War Department, were disposed of, and the House adjourned.

BY THE MAILS.

WASHINGTON, June 16, 1846. From the President's message to the Senate to day, and the accompanying calculations of the Treasury Department, you will perceive that there is a deficit anticipated in the funds of the current year; or rather, an increase of expenditure, of 23,959,954; and that from all resources, including the expected increase of receipts by the tariff modification, a million anticipated from the ware-house bill, and half a million increase from the reduction of the public lands, he will still be left in a deficit of $12,586,450, for which he asks the privilege of borrowing or of issuing treasury notes. Tea and coffee at 20 per cent are recommended. Reduce then the 60 per cent on sugar to 2 per cent, and the 115 per cent on salt to 20 per per cent, and the 115 per cent on salt to 20 per cent, and these four items will give you a sum of four millions increase to the receipts. The residue of the estimates of increase is anticipated from the several schedules of modification proposed. Under the present law, however, peace being secured with England, we may reasonably expect an addition of several millions from the existing law, from largely increased importations to Texas and the West.

Upon the whole, the executive estimates look rather unfavorable to a modification of the tariff at the present session. The whole system of remedial measures leaves a deficit, to be covered by treasury notes, or loans of twelve millions; and the tariff men will urge, why not at once as well borrow, or issue treasury notes, for twenty millions as twelve, especially when the balance beyond the twelve, is to be raised, and counted upon from resources merely experimental, and very uncertain. Mr. Lewis made the inquiry, with a view of avoiding a resort to loans or paper issues; the answer shows that some such for twenty millions as twelve, especially when the balance beyond the twelve, is to be raised, and counted upon from resources merely experimental, and very uncertain. Mr. Lewis made the inquiry, with a view of avoiding a resort to loans or paper issues; the answer shows that some such result is altogether unavoidable, except by a resort to direct taxation. The proposed imposition upon tea and coffee, will be more objectionable to many of our western members, than the bill of '42. Altogether then, the Executive's estimates will operate against a modification of the bill of '42. Altogether then, the Executive's estimates will operate against a modification of the bill of '42. Altogether then, the Executive's estimates will operate against a modification of the bill of '42. Altogether was laid before the Senate to-day; and, in executive session, Mr. Allen spoke twice—his voice being distinctly distinguishable through three or four closed doors, with these or four rooms intervening. He denounced the treaty as a sacrifice of the national honor—as an outrage upon the American people—as a sacrifice of the pledges of the administration—as a retraction of its repeated and established declarations of the unquestionable title we have, or used to have, to the whole territory. He contrasted the case of Mexico with that of Great Britain, very much to our dispartigement—he referred again to the North-east boundary, and the concessions there made—he doubted, too, whether with the Oregon surrender, we should be able to purchase a peace with Great Britain. The discussion may be continued for several days—as it is not unlikely that Cass, Hunnegan, Fairfield, Dickinson, and others, may each consider it necessary, to re-define their opinions upon 54:40.

No overtures had, up to this afternoon been received by the Executive, from the Mexican usurperer Paredes, for pence; although some such overtures have been reported as having arrived.

After six ballotings to-day in the Senate for a Chairman on Foreign Relations, in the place of

THE OREGON BOUNDARY TREATY.—As we anticipanted in some rumarks on the subject on Monday last, the President of the United States, sent to the Senate jesterday, for its advice and consent, a treaty which he has concluded with the British Minister, facturing the Oregon controversy, and which is, we presume, in conformity to the terms praviously presented by the President to the Senate, and approved by that body, as stated in our paper of Monday last. The Senate went into Executive session about two o'clock, and so remained during the remainder of the sitting.—National Intelligencer, June 17.

General Robert Armstrong, the consul of the United States at Liverpool, is now in this city. He came in the Great Western, and will return in a few days to Liverpool. He describes the deep impression which the unparalleled enthusiasm of our volunteers is calculated to produce in Europe.—Westergton Union, June 16.
